Engineer's Report

Permits to discuss due to letter of opposition or unclear policy:

16-097 Brady Janzen spoke for the Riverview proposed dairy farm which is undergoing an aquifer recharge test performed by the DNR. Janzen said they would clear out any frozen build up using tools or a heating tool to keep the culverts free from ice. There are 6 culverts ranging in size from 48" to 72" between the project and the Rabbit River. Kapphahn made a motion to allow the discharge in the ditch with the condition the culverts are monitored and kept clear, Dahlen seconded, motion carried.

16-003 The DNR could not allow a private entity to control public water flow. An EAW and hydrological analysis would be required to request permission for this project, costing thousands of dollars. Engels stated he could not see sufficient benefits this project would provide the watershed.

TCD 52 Moore Engineering provided a recommended grade line, this is a public water system so the DNR has input.

Buffer There is a $500 fine for noncompliance which can be waived by watershed if the farmer is working with the WD. There is also a concern regarding lawsuits.

Beavers Deal made a motion to pay beaver trappers if they are trapped downstream from a Judicial Ditch to the point where it prevents adverse effects on the culvert, to be paid by general funds if legal advice supports this decision, second by Wold, motion carried. Athens to give legal advice after researching.
